

PERSON- CENTRED SOCIAL AND HEALTH SERVICES IN FINLAND

8.MAR-19.APR.2023

SAP OVERVIEW

The traditional model of care is transitioning from an acute hospital-based model to a socially driven wellbeing model. This requires health and wellbeing faculties delivering nurse and wellbeing education programmes across Europe to include the social needs of persons utilising health and social care services in the modern era. This SAP will help prepare students for that future.

LEARNING OUTCOMES

1. Critically review a community organisation in Finland recognising and respecting the values and the ideology of the organisation, regarding to demographic, legal issues, regulations and culture.
2. Discuss the resources of community partners that are designated to serve a public purpose.
3. Participate in a community activity which builds on the capacity of individuals, groups, and organizations and gain an insight and experience in how to collaboratively address issues of public concern.
4. Critically reflect on and evaluate community engagement, exchange of knowledge, groupwork, roles and resources within the framework of leadership and intercultural sensitivity.
