

GEOPOLITICS IN A RAPIDLY CHANGING WORLD

16.OCT-1.DEC.2023

SAP OVERVIEW

We are all part of a global world. This world is changing rapidly, which brings with it certain challenges, especially in a geopolitical context. This SAP will help prepare RUN-EU students for those challenges.

The aim of this SAP is to develop students' critical thinking skills in order to provide them with a framework for understanding the interplay between geography, power, economics, and international relations in global affairs. This entails analysing geopolitical phenomena through four different angles, namely legal, security, economic and environment. Thus, the programme aims to give participants an in-depth and nuanced understanding of the rapidly changing world.

LEARNING OUTCOMES

During the SAP the students will be able to:

- increase their understanding of the role of geopolitics in global affairs.
- learn to encounter, understand and analyse geopolitical issues from a legal, economic, safety and environmental point of view.
- develop research, analytical and presentation skills by examining specific geopolitical conflicts.
- develop critical thinking and problem-solving skills.
- collaborate with others to achieve a common goal.
- interact with people from different cultures, comparing diverse linguistic/cultural features.
- think creatively (generate new ideas, evaluate and select the most appropriate for the project).
